DID YOU KNOW?

The road from Ashton to Oldham used to go via Peggotty Lane (Taunton Road), left on to Taunton Bar (Newmarket Road), right by Taunton Hall, crossing the stream in the hollow, over the footbridge by Taunton Platting, going up hill (now Bump Steps), then to Tree Bank (Farmer Browns), before finding the road again. It then went down the dale, uphill, and past Slater's Farm by Knott Lane, eventually leading through to Oldham (marked on the map).

It wasn't until 1799 when an Act of Parliament was passed authorising the cutting of a new road from Ashton to Oldham.

Oldham Road was built in 1820 and opened in stages, with a Toll Bar erected where the War Memorial now stands. Taunton Bar, known as 'Toll Bar Lane' was last referenced in 1884, now known as Newmarket Road.
